This lecture will focus on the disparity existing between current psychotherapy/ counselling strategies and practitioners' difficulties in dealing with diverse Muslim clients. The aim of this event is to develop more enlightened future models of service based on real evidence.

The Muslim Youth Foundation has piloted "Islamic Counselling". Mr. M. Malik will share his experiences with a few case histories to demonstrate the nature of a 'culturally sensitive counselling session.'

What will I gain by attending?

- ❖ Learn about the use of Islamic concepts with clients across the lifespan, as well as faith-centred practices that can be used in clinical work.
- ❖ Challenge the way you work with Muslim clients.
- ❖ Realise the important issues that impacting on counselling services for Muslim clients.
- ❖ Understand the emerging counselling concepts with an Islamic framework.

Who is this lecture for?

This event is primarily targeted for people working within Mental Health Services/ Psychology students/Counsellors or those who have a special interest in the Islamic understanding of psychological well-being and spirituality.
